How you can earn points

1. You’ll earn points on purchases of products and services,
Amazon Rewards Program Agreement

transactions on Amazon.com to which you choose to apply a promotional financing offer.
> balance transfers
> cash advances or cash-like transactions > travelers checks, foreign currency, money orders or wire transfers > lottery tickets, casino gaming chips, race track wagers or similar betting transactions > any checks that access your card account > interest > unauthorized or fraudulent charges > fees of any kind, including an annual fee, if applicable

2. Rewards Categories: Merchants who accept Visa/Mastercard credit cards are assigned a merchant code, which is determined by the merchant or its processor in accordance with Visa/Mastercard procedures based on the kinds of products and services they primarily sell. We group similar merchant codes into categories for purposes of making rewards offers to you. Please note:
> We make every effort to include all relevant merchant codes in our rewards categories. However, even though a merchant or some of the items that it sells may appear to fit within a rewards category, the merchant may not have a merchant code in that category. When this occurs, purchases with that merchant won’t qualify for rewards offers on purchases in that category.
> Purchases submitted by you, an authorized user, or the merchant through third-party payment accounts, mobile or wireless card readers, online or mobile digital wallets, or similar technology will not qualify in a rewards category if the technology is not set up to process the purchase in that rewards category. For more information about Chase rewards categories, see chase.com/rewardscategoryfaqs.

3. With 5-2-1 % back rewards, you’ll earn:
> 5% back for each $1 of eligible purchases made using your card account at Amazon.com (including digital downloads, Amazon.com Gift Cards, Amazon Fresh orders, Amazon Prime subscriptions, and items sold by third-party merchants through Amazon.com’s marketplace), any Whole Foods Market and the participating Amazon stores and sites listed at Amazon.com/primevisa/benefits. 5% back equates to $0.05 for each $1 spent, which is equal to 5 points.
> For example, if you spend $100 using your card account on a purchase at Amazon.com, you will earn $5 in % back rewards, which is equal to 500 points.
> 5% back is not earned on (i) purchases from merchants using Amazon Pay, (ii) purchases made at international Amazon retail sites (including but not limited to Amazon.ca, Amazon.co.uk, Amazon.de, Amazon.fr, or Amazon.co.jp), or any other website operated by Amazon that is not listed at Amazon.com/primevisa/benefits, (iii) purchases made at international Whole Foods Markets, (iv) purchases of Whole Foods Market products and services through third-party sites such as Eventbrite, Instacart, Google Express and Shipt, (v) online purchases of Whole Foods Market gift cards (including through buyatab.com), event tickets or classes, (vi) purchases from certain third-party vendors operating at Whole Foods Markets, (vii) purchases of massage services at any Whole Foods Market, or (viii) purchases from Spa@Ink, in each case in Amazon’s sole discretion.
> 2% back for each $1 spent on purchases made using your card account through Chase Travel. 2% back equates to $0.02 for each $1 spent, which is equal to 2 points.
> For example, if you spend $100 on travel purchases made using your card account through Chase Travel, you will earn $2 in % back rewards, which is equal to 200 points.
> You can book Chase Travel at chasetravel.com or call the number on the back of your card.
> If only a portion of your travel purchase is paid using your card account and the remaining is paid using points, only the portion paid with your card account will qualify for earning points.
> 5% back is not earned on purchases made using your card account directly with travel suppliers including airlines, hotels, car rentals and cruises.

4. With 3-2-1 % back rewards, you’ll earn:
> 3% back for each $1 of eligible purchases made using...

(a) If the Amazon.com account through which you applied for your card account has an eligible Prime membership and your card account is loaded into that Amazon.com account, your card account will automatically earn 5% back on purchases made at Amazon.com, any Whole Foods Market and the participating Amazon stores and sites, and on purchases made through Chase Travel (subject to the limitations described in section 3 of How you can earn points above), except as noted below in this section 5(a).

How you can earn points

- 3% back for each $1 spent on purchases made using your card account through Chase Travel. 3% back equates to $0.03 for each $1 spent, which is equal to 3 points.

- For example, if you spend $100 using your card account through Chase Travel, you will earn $3 in % back rewards, which is equal to 300 points.

- 3% back is not earned on (i) purchases from merchants using Amazon Pay, (ii) purchases made at international Amazon retail sites (including but not limited to Amazon.ca, Amazon.co.uk, Amazon.de, Amazon.fr, or Amazon.co.jp), or any other website operated by Amazon that is not listed at Amazon.com/amazonvisa/benefits, (iii) purchases made at international Whole Foods Markets, (iv) purchases of Whole Foods Market products and services through third-party sites such as Eventbrite, Instacart, Google Express and Shipt, (v) online purchases of Whole Foods Market gift cards (including through buyatab.com), event tickets or classes, (vi) purchases from certain third-party vendors operating at Whole Foods Markets, (vii) purchases of massage services at any Whole Foods Market, or (viii) purchases from Spa@Ink, in each case in Amazon’s sole discretion.

- 2% back for each $1 spent on purchases made using your card account directly with travel suppliers including airlines, hotels, car rentals and cruises.

- For example, if you spend $100 using your card account on a purchase in one of these categories, you will earn $2 in % back rewards, which is equal to 200 points.

- 1% back for each $1 spent on all other purchases. 1% back equates to $0.01 for each $1 spent, which is equal to 1 point.

- For example, if you spend $100 using your card account on any other purchase, you will earn $1 in % back rewards, which is equal to 100 points.

- 1% back is not earned on purchases made using your card account on any other purchase, you will earn $1 in % back rewards, which is equal to 100 points.

- Your card account will no longer earn 5% back and will instead earn 3% back on such purchases.

- In such cases, you will need to confirm your card account number and select your card account on that Amazon.com account with eligible Prime membership in order to earn 5% back on purchases made at Amazon.com, Whole Foods Markets and the participating Amazon stores and sites, and on purchases made through Chase Travel (subject to the limitations described in section 3 of How you can earn points above). - no longer has your card account loaded in that Amazon.com account;
- is closed;

(b) If the Amazon.com account through which you applied for your card account does not have an eligible Prime membership and your card account is loaded into that Amazon.com account, your card account will earn 3% back on purchases made at Amazon.com, any Whole Foods Market and the participating Amazon stores and sites, and on purchases made through Chase Travel (subject to the limitations described in section 4 of How you can earn points above).

If your card account is currently earning 3% back and is loaded into an Amazon.com account with an eligible Prime membership, you will need to confirm and select your card account to earn 5% back on purchases made at Amazon.com, any Whole Foods Market and the participating Amazon stores and sites, and on purchases made through Chase Travel (subject to the limitations described in section 3 of How you can earn points above). Visit the “Manage Payment Options” page via “Your Account” page on Amazon.com as described in section 6 below to learn how. Once you’ve confirmed and selected your card account, your card account will earn 5% back on purchases made at Amazon.com, Whole Foods Markets and the participating Amazon stores and sites, and on purchases made through Chase Travel (subject to the limitations described in section 3 of How you can earn points above) until that Amazon.com account with eligible Prime membership:
• no longer has an eligible Prime membership;
• no longer has your credit card account loaded in that Amazon.com account;
• is closed;
• is used to select a different card account to earn 5% back; or
• is used to apply for another Prime Visa card account that is approved and loaded in that Amazon.com account; that new card account will earn 5% back on purchases made at Amazon.com, any Whole Foods Market and the participating Amazon stores and sites, and on purchases made through Chase Travel.

(c) In all other cases, your card account will earn 3% back on purchases made at Amazon.com, any Whole Foods Market and the participating Amazon stores and sites, and on purchases made through Chase Travel.

6. How to see if your card account earns 5% back at Amazon.com, Whole Foods Markets and the participating Amazon stores and sites, and through Chase Travel. To see if your card account earns 5% back, follow these steps:
• sign into an Amazon.com account where your card account is loaded;
• visit “Your Account” page;
• visit the “Manage Payment Options” page under “Payment Methods” section; and
• expand the details of your credit card.

The details of your credit card will specify if your card account earns 5% back or 3% back on purchases made at Amazon.com, any Whole Foods Market and the participating Amazon stores and sites, and on purchases made through Chase Travel. If that Amazon.com account has eligible Prime membership, and your card account could be earning 5% back on purchases made at Amazon.com, Whole Foods Markets and the participating Amazon stores and sites, and on purchases made through Chase Travel, you will also be told how to start earning 5% back on such purchases. For each purchase on Amazon.com, at a Whole Foods Market or at the participating Amazon stores and sites, or through Chase Travel you have already made, you will be able to check on chase.com whether you earned 5% back or 3% back.

In accordance with the above terms, Amazon is notifying Chase, at the time your eligible Amazon.com, Whole Foods Market or the participating Amazon stores and sites, or Chase Travel purchase is made, whether that purchase earns 5% back or 3% back.

Ways to earn bonus points
• We may offer you ways to earn bonus points through the program or special promotions. You’ll find out more about the number of bonus points you can earn and any other terms at or before the time of each eligible offer. The terms of this agreement will apply to any such offer. • You’ll see your total points balance earned on chase.com and after each statement billing cycle on your monthly credit card billing statement.
• We may, from time to time, provide additional ways for you to see points you’ve earned, such as through Chase or third-party mobile application(s).

• When you use points to redeem for eligible purchases at Amazon.com, travel, cash, and gift cards, each point is worth $.01 (one cent), which means that 100 points equals $1 in redemption value. Redemption values for other reward options may be worth more or less than this.

Products and services

- We may give you opportunities to use your points for all or part of a payment for the purchase of eligible products or services directly through third-party merchants or service providers. In order to do so, you must either be automatically enrolled or complete the self-registration process directly with the merchant or service provider.
  - To participate, you may be required to authorize Chase to share information about your card account with the third party. We’ll provide you with additional details as required by law.
  - After you are enrolled, Chase will provide the third party with information about your participation in the program, including your program points balance.
  - Points will not be used without your permission. You select when and how many points are used each time you make a purchase with the third party, unless you opt into a default payment feature offered by the third party. In that case, your points will be applied automatically in accordance with your selected default payment settings.
  - The redemption value of points may be worth less when using them directly through third-party merchants or service providers than the redemption value of points used for reward options offered directly through the program.

- We may give you opportunities to use your points to pay for products or services from third-party merchants directly through the program.
  - Products or services may not always be available and may change without notice.
